

Textbook List 2020-2021

Instructions & Suggestions:

- Purchase from a family whose student(s) attended Greyfriars last year. [See “Book Sale Website” below]
- Search online at sites such as:
 - ◆ Smile.amazon.com [they have a used book Marketplace].
 - ◆ www.barnesandnoble.com
 - ◆ www.mardel.com/Books/c/Books
 - ◆ www.abebooks.com
 - ◆ www.alibris.com

Unless otherwise noted, students all need to have the same exact books as the teacher to avoid confusion and so that classroom time is not wasted getting everyone “on the same page.” It is best to search by ISBN number to be sure you are getting the correct edition of the correct book. Be careful, as sometimes a website’s listing might not be entirely accurate (caveat emptor!). When entering an ISBN number into Amazon, remove the hyphens. Also, Amazon sometimes directs you to a sponsored listing or an alternative edition that might not exactly match by ISBN number. Amazon “Marketplace” used book sellers are simply individuals conducting transactions via Amazon and those listings might or might be entirely accurate.

Be sure to order in plenty of time to receive your student’s books by August 19 (when classes start). Some sellers will send by media mail, which can take weeks to arrive.

Feedback:

Please let us know of any corrections to this Book List or other feedback you might suggest.

Book Sale Website:

We have set up a “Book Sale” document online for parents and faculty who wish to sell or buy (click the link below):

Used Books for Sale

Note: The Book Sale website is intended only for Greyfriars families. The document simply lists the books for sale, and interested buyers will contact the sellers directly to arrange a transaction. If you wish to sell, add your listing. Be sure to remove the listings that have sold, to save yourself and others from inquiries for books no longer available.

To protect the contact information of families listing books, a password is required if accessing the Book List from our website. After clicking the “Used Books for Sale” link from the website Book List, a document virtually identical to this one will be opened, but will require a password (provided in an email to Greyfriars families; contact Jennifer M. if you cannot find it). After clicking the “Used Books for Sale” link again in the new version, individuals will be taken to the website listing books for sale.

Amazon Smile Program:

For those of you who will be shopping at Amazon, if you begin at smile.amazon.com, and designate Greyfriars as your charitable organization, then 0.5% of your eligible purchases will be credited to Greyfriars. Used books would not be eligible, but many new books are included. Look for the “Eligible for Amazon Smile donation” underneath the price. Please tell your friends!

Kindles and Other e-book Readers:

Many of the required books are available much more cheaply in electronic format than printed (and weigh a lot less!). Kindles or other e-readers are welcome, but parents should approach that decision with great discretion. Our school policy is that laptops, Kindles, tablets and other similar devices [phones and mp3 players are not allowed to be used at all] can be used solely for reading or taking notes (i.e. not for any other purpose during school hours, including breaks). These devices must be in “airplane mode” (without any wireless or cellular connections) throughout the school day. Our experience has been that the temptation, especially for underclassmen, to send or receive a text, browse the Internet, check email or use electronic devices in some other way that is not allowed (play a game, play a video, etc.) has proven too much for most students.

Further, most of the time active reading is helped by taking notes. A student could jot down notes electronically or in a notebook, but reading a physical book with a pencil in hand continues to be the most effective plan for most students.
